

James E. Augerot

1956	New Mexico Highlands University	Las Vegas, NM	BA, Philosophy
1959	New Mexico Highlands University	Las Vegas, NM	MA English Literature
1968	University of Washington	Seattle, WA	PhD Slavic Languages and Literatures

My interests are primarily in the area of Second Language Acquisition. I have produced teaching materials for Russian, Bulgarian and Romanian. In connection with this is my current work on online morphological dictionaries of Russian and Romanian. More generally, I continue to work with Balkan Linguistics, investigating the common characteristics among Albanian, Bulgarian, Macedonian, and other neighboring languages.

1959-60 Instructor New Mexico Highlands University

1964-66 Fulbright Lecturer Babes-Bolyai University Cluj, Romania

1966-67 Pre-doctoral Lecturer University of Washington

1968-69 Fulbright Lecturer Kliment Ohridski University, Sofia, Bulg.

1969-Present Professor University of Washington

American Association of Teachers of Slavic and East European Languages

Bulgarian Studies Group

Society for Romanian Studies: Treasurer 1973-Present, President 2001-2005

South East European Studies Association: 1993-Present, Secretary-Treasurer

Washington Association of Foreign Language Teachers: 1978-80 President

Romanian-Limba Româna Center for Romanian Studies, Iasi, 1999, 360pp.

Romanian Phonology: A Generative Phonological Sketch of the Core Vocabulary of Standard Romanian, Romanian Academy Press, 1974, 86pp.

Romanian Grammar Pamphlets (Editor) Center for Applied Linguistics, 1973, 86pp.

The Sounds of English and Romanian Bucharest University Press, 1984, 158pp (with Dumitru Chitoran and Hortensia Pârlog).

Aspectele teoriei a sintaxei (Aspects of the Theory of Syntax), Academy of Sciences, Bucuresti, 1968, 287pp. (Translation with Paul Schweiger).

“Regular Russian, or: Let’s all err in the right direction” in Russian Language Journal, 24, pp. 111-116, 1975.

“Balkan phenomena, local or universal?” (With Earnest Scatton) in Balkansko ezikoznanie, XIX-4, 1986.

“Towards a phonology of Romanian” in Proceedings of the 10th International Congress of Linguists, Bucharest, pp. 435-441, 1970.

“Jat and the Bulgarian Verb” in Topics in Slavic Phonology, pp. 24-28, Slavica Publishers, Inc. Cambridge, 1974.

“Alternating or Underlying, Intuition vs. Reality” in Folia Slavica, 4/2-3, 1981.

Russian Morphological Database: www.courses.u.washington.edu/rmdb. The morphology of a 100,000 word corpus of modern Russian, searchable by root, derivational morpheme, word type, word class and meaning, March, 2002.

“Romanian” in Encyclopedia of Language and Linguistics, 2nd Ed. pp. 660-663. Edited by Keith Brown. Elsevier: Oxford, 2006